

Location: Pall-Ex, LE67 1FH (5min off J22 M1)
Title: C# Web Developer
Salary: £30000+ depending on experience and skills

Pall-Ex, the biggest palletised network in UK, owned by Dragons Den entrepreneur Hilary Devey, is looking for an exceptional C# Web Developer to join its development team. The role involves working on existing and new web projects for UK and European partners. You will aid in designing and coding system architecture, write new features and extensions to functionality and provide support to other experienced team members.

You must be able to work independently on projects as well as being able to collaborate as a strong team member. Excellent attention to detail and communication skills, ability to understand solutions on a commercial as well as a technical level - these are key for this role.

Skills required:

- HTML, XHTML, XML, CSS
- C# .Net 3.5/4.0
- SQL
- IIS

Skills desired:

- Javascript, jQuery, AJAX
- Development in an object oriented environment
- VB

Experience required: 3+ years of experience of creating cross browser compliant data driven websites, SQL development (stored procedures, views), software development lifecycle including source control and bug tracking software.

Experience desired: Integration of 3rd party controls e.g. Telerik, familiarity with logistics/transport sector.

Closing date for this role is Friday 9th of March 2012. Please submit your CV to mkolan@palllex.co.uk